PRESIDENT ROHRBACH

THE PRESIDENT

EDUCATION FOR THE INDIVIDUAL

Teachers and students here have a lingering feeling that human values, other than those that can be measured exactly, may be important. Recently, highly placed spokesmen in America have stressed the humanities and advocated the need for educational balance. The National Defense Education Act of the 85th Congress placed emphasis upon guidance, foreign languages, and learning aids side by side with technology. It is hoped that emphasis in the language area may provide insight into other cultures and literatures which may not handicap military personnel to find their way around Karachi.

"Conceived in liberty," the nation's educational philosophy needs to emphasize individual freedom. Yet, how does one plan freedom, citizenship, and the teaching of values? Can these really be taught? Will teaching them enslave or liberate learners? Special guidance, if imaginative, may release the creative potential of the individual.

Help toward the solution of this problem may be found in the leading spirit of science. In this age of indetermination and probability when new doors are unlocked and new mysteries uncovered, there is small room for complacency or dogma. Before the awful expanse of the unknown, the scientist stands in dedicated excitement and humility. It is probably only the layman of limited vision who believes that human personality may be planned and programmed.

Teachers, counselors, and educators will truly educate for the freedom of the individual if they can approach the unknown and the unique potentialities of each learner with the same humility and dedication as the scientist who studies the mysteries of life, time and space.

The trustees and the faculty rededicate themselves to help the students of the college to teach children as individuals. In doing this, human values are recognized and learners are not automatons but beings who have personalities.

GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

NEWTON W. GEISS

Our General Alumni Association congratulates each member of the 1959 class upon graduation from this college. Teaching, with its high ideals and purposes, offers opportunities to mould the thinking of a community and to direct the destiny of man. Our schools need your help in training children to think, to act, and to live significantly in our American democracy. You can do much to vitalize our schools by instilling in the communities where you teach a strong desire for more and better education. You can, in turn, accomplish this most successfully by vitalizing yourselves and by working together.

Your community school has the duty of working to improve community living, a big task which calls for your enthusiastic sharing of responsibilities. Your community itself becomes a better place to live in as you bear at least your share of the load in helping to formulate well defined goals which have the backing of those individuals and groups who ardently strive for a better place in their town.

Your school can not alone produce the town and country that you want. A large part of your job, both directly and indirectly, is to help make a community in which children can grow up to be democratic, intelligent, disciplined, reverent, and altruistic. Although it is true that the public schools have now become everybody's business, you will become more than ever a key figure—educator, part of the guidance program for every one of your students, and a daily ambassador from the gown to the town. In addition to supporting all of these functions, you must learn to become an integral part of your community, taking part in its activities and supporting its welfare.

As teacher of whatever subject or level, you will have, among others, the difficult task of encouraging critical thinking. You should become a convinced and convincing teacher, not only of the "how's" but, even more important, of the "why's." Facts you will recognize as significant chiefly in the building of all-important relationships, attitudes, and understandings. As you go on in teaching your increased personal experience and your broadened critical readings will add to your value and self-confidence as teacher-critic-citizen.

Teaching, you will have the greatest of opportunities and responsibilities. You can do more than statesmen or conquerors. You can create new visions and liberate new powers. Such are your chances and such our challenge to you.

Sincerely yours,
Newton W. Geiss, President
General Alumni Association.

DEAN OF INSTRUCTION

Dr. Cyrus E. Beekey is the gentleman upon whom most students depend when facing academic problems. After thoroughly reviewing the difficulty, the Dean of Instruction will counsel the student and aid him in finding the most adequate solution.

ART EDUCATION FACULTY

From Rembrandt to Picasso—so run the tastes of the Art Department, under the direction of Dr. Italo de Francesco. Their influence appears throughout the college, from the students' work in the concourse and cafeteria to the displays in the Sharadin Studio.

Two additions to the department this year were Mrs. Rosemarie Sloat, serving during the absence of Dr. Elizabeth Hurwitz, and Mr. John Grossman, formerly art supervisor for the Bethlehem public schools.

LABORATORY SCHOOL FACULTY

The laboratory school is the teachers college's main source of practical observation and application of teaching methods.

The specialized faculty is a group of teachers who are qualified to instruct college students in teaching techniques as well as to conduct regular elementary school classes.

We expect that the examples of good teaching observed and the opportunity of working with these experienced educators will help our students to rank among tomorrow's better teachers.

EDUCATION FACULTY

In a teachers college the Education Department is necessarily a major part of the curriculum.

The responsibilities of modern education make mastery of subject matter not in itself sufficient. Our graduates must have, in addition, a thorough background in educational philosophy and methods.

With these needs in mind, the Education Department attempts to equip future teachers with the tools of their trade.

EDUCATION.

First row: Dr. Fink, Dr. Beatty, Mr. Weiss.

"Freshmen, what course consumes most of your time?"

Without a doubt the reply is, "Communication!" Foundation course of the English Department, it affects all college students, developing in them the basic skills of reading, writing, and speaking.

With this common basis, the students as a whole, as well as the English majors, are encouraged to improve the abilities of expression required in their teaching careers.

Although speech is not offered as a major field at K.S.T.C., it can be taken as a minor field with eighteen hours of work. Miss Ruth Bonner is head of the Speech Department. The required speech course, Play Production, was taught the first semester by Miss Mary E. Moore in the absence of Miss Bonner.

ENGLISH AND SPEECH FACULTY

ENGLISH AND SPEECH.

Seated: Miss Moore, Dr. Tyson, Dr. Yetman, Mrs. Schaeffer.
Standing: Mr. Foust, Mr. Gable, Mr. Ford.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE. Dr. Hesse.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE FACULTY

"Parlez-vous francais!" "Si, Si!"

Both elementary and advanced French and Spanish are offered by the Language Department under Dr. Grace Hesse. Language and grammar are emphasized, but a study of the history and literature of each country is an integral part of the program. Dr. Hesse also supervises the foreign language program in the elementary school on campus where written and oral Spanish are taught to all grades by the advanced Spanish students.

GEOGRAPHY FACULTY

Don't become alarmed if you hear students talking in what seems to be a secret code. They are only discussing climatic stations—one of the many facets of environment studied in various geography classes. The Geography Department develops in students an awareness of the physical features of our solar system and of the relation between it and the patterns of life on this crowded planet. Each Kutztown student spends many hours with the professors of this department learning to distinguish causes and effects in his natural and man-made environment.

GEOGRAPHY. Mr. Slick, Dr. Moyer.

LIBRARY SCIENCE. Seated: Mr. Stevens, Mrs. Yost.
Standing: Mr. Huber, Miss Mengel, Mr. Gledhill, Mrs. Mack.

LIBRARY SCIENCE FACULTY

"Efficient" and "helpful" are two words often used to describe the college library. Under the capable direction of Mr. Nicholas G. Stevens, Director of Library Education, and his staff of instructors, the library science majors gain valuable experience working in the library in addition to their studies in the classroom.

For the student body as a whole, the Library Science Department conducts the annual Freshman orientation programs and often cooperates with English Department activities.

MATHEMATICS FACULTY

One of the aims of the Mathematics Department is to prepare prospective teachers to be more proficient and at ease in their work.

This year, for the first time, Fundamentals of Mathematics is a required course for all students majoring in Elementary Education.

MATH. Mr. Jason White, Mr. Knedler.

MUSIC. Mr. Thomas, Dr. Casselberry.

MUSIC FACULTY

What is the difference between a sharp and a flat? . . . The music department helps elementary education students to learn the answer to this question and many others through such courses as Preparatory Music, Class Piano, Fundamentals of Music, and Teaching Music in the Elementary Grades.

All students are required to take Introduction to Music, which presents a basis for music as it is used in teaching.

In addition to classes, the Music Department sponsors the Christmas and Spring Concerts, which require much work and coordination between the orchestra and the choir.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION FACULTY

"Oh, my aching back!" may well be the cry, but, nevertheless, all physically able students are required to take Physical Education. From this program is developed a spirit of co-operation and fair play.

Health and first aid, and swimming and other sports facilitate the study of the care and functioning of the human mind and body. Another goal is the promotion of sportsmanship, that trait once defined as how to "win gracefully and lose graciously."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

Seated: Miss Mellner, Miss Glassford.
Standing: Mr. Risley, Mr. Patton.

PSYCHOLOGY. Dr. Mathias, Dr. Skeath.

PSYCHOLOGY FACULTY

No longer does one ask "Who done it?" but "Why?" . . .

Dealings with people, large and small, are a teacher's job, no matter what phase of education or subject he undertakes. What better way to prepare for teaching than to learn first why we behave the way we do and second why students and parents react in the ways in which they do?

SCIENCE. Mr. Sharpe, Dr. Green, Mr. Hamme, Mr. Schlenker, Mr. Lawfer.

SCIENCE FACULTY

Long white coats and pockets bulging with weights, dissecting kits, or test tubes—these are the badges of office for members of the Science Department. With the current emphasis on science, Dr. Green and his associates are working hard to prepare future science instructors who will be able to keep the coming generation abreast of the latest scientific developments. Soon there will be a modern science building to facilitate accomplishment of these objectives.

HISTORY FACULTY

When was the War of 1812 fought? If you don't know, the best way to find out is to ask one of our history professors. No matter in what curriculum you are enrolled, at some time or other you will meet one, or all, of these professors. The courses range from a history of our own state, Pennsylvania, to the civilizations of the world. Current events are also a part of our classes, and discussions center around their relationships with history. In general, our history courses give us a much needed background and help is to become more aware of the events of today.

HISTORY. Seated: Dr. Prentiss.
Standing: Dr. Gresh, Mr. John White, Dr. Graver.

MR. JOHN WHITE, MISS RICKENBACH

Many times a student can be successful if he has the help of people who analyze his problems and understand his personality. Students are encouraged to bring their more personal problems to Miss Mary E. Rickenbach, Dean of Women, and to Mr. John B. White, Dean of Men.

DEANS OF PERSONNEL

DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS: Mr. Huber.

ADMISSIONS DEPARTMENT

The Admissions office, headed by Mr. Huber, selects from many applicants to Kutztown, those who it feels will best be able to contribute to the teaching profession. Most important in this selection is the determination of those students who have the ability to complete their college careers successfully.

STUDENT TEACHING AND PLACEMENT

Eighteen weeks of practical application of teaching face each Senior, and these are the people who plan and make possible this last fulfilling experience.

SECRETARIAL STAFF

Efficiency plus. These are the clerks and typists who facilitate a student's progress through K.S.T.C. Typing exams, filing records, and keeping an accurate account of funds, kept these girls busy at all times.

CLASSES

Some by orderly progression of courses, others by leaps and bounds because of summer school or transfer credits . . . Last year's Sophomore is this year's Junior and next year's Senior.

Rivalry on Homecoming Day for float awards . . . Whose dance would be the best? Whose intramural team would win?

And yet, together, the student body topped the goal of the W.U.S. drive, cheered basketball, baseball, football teams, and applauded assemblies.

"Together we could lick the world!" and maybe we did, once or twice . . .

FRESHMAN CLASS

Feelings of anxiety and independence prevailed as the Freshmen looked to the future. The perplexed "Frosh" struggle to adjust to this new challenge. Parental protection is a thing of the past and now the freshman must rely upon his own resources.

Beyond this baffling network of bewilderment lies his dream of the future, which has enabled him to survive the orientation trauma and other freshman tensions. Between the custom officers and pangs of homesickness stretched friendly hands which extended a welcoming approval. Gradually he was absorbed into this forceful society and can now look forward to the time he will be a Sophomore.

Frosh capture first prize.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The benefits reaped from freshman orientation have enabled the sophomores to face 1958-1959 with more wisdom and more maturity. They are conscientious in studies, enthusiastic in college activities, and proficient in several sports. Sophomore girls have placed on Honor Hockey and Honor Basketball teams and five girls are on W.A.A. Council. The boys have fought for the Golden Avalanche on the football and basketball teams.

Activities of Homecoming Day placed many sophomores in the limelight. Velda Hershey was honored as attendant to the Homecoming Queen. Janet Wanner, Frances Strouse, and David Fischl held leading parts in the Senior Revue.

"My Funny Valentine," a dance sponsored by the Sophomore Class, was celebrated in the modern vein. John Bigelow and Richard Cohen supervised decorations which were predominantly large, humorous cards. Henry Casella and his Showmen completed the evening by providing the music.

With great anticipation, the Sophomores look forward to next year—the glorious Junior year.

Sophs salute the new dorm.

JUNIOR CLASS

Feelings of pride and relief prevailed as the Juniors contemplated the past and realized that the halfway point in their college careers had been reached. Well-oriented after two demanding years, their intellectual endeavors were supplemented with various extracurricular functions.

Socially the Juniors were an active group. To promote interest in the football games, class members decorated the KSTC campus with the college colors, and staged Friday night pep rallies. Rounding out the football season was Homecoming Day with its customary festivities. "Koncourse Konduct," the Junior class float, captured second prize.

Preparation for the important all-college revue was begun and it promises to be one of the best. The high point of the year socially was the Junior Prom, held in April, which featured an exotic Persian theme.

The class proved to be active intellectually as well as socially when some of its members qualified for admission to Epsilon Zeta Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, National Honor Society in Education. With the arrival of the class rings in time for Christmas, the Juniors proudly displayed those long awaited symbols of academic achievement.

The greater part of their college years lies behind them, but the Juniors look forward to what still lies ahead—that year when they will be Seniors!

CLUBS

The required courses aren't the only means by which a K.S.T.C. student learns. Almost as numerous as the classes are the clubs . . . sponsored by departments, churches, and just interested people . . . offering a wide variety of experiences not available in regular class work.

Also added to the learning, a generous measure of pure fun . . .

Do you remember . . . ?

ART ALLIANCE

Freshman and Sophomore art students are offered opportunities in leadership and participation in group activities through the Art Alliance. Designed as a supplement to the student art program, Art Alliance sponsors speakers, panel discussions, and other activities, alone, and in coordination with the Art Education Society.

The Art Education Society provides opportunities for upperclassmen in the art curriculum to expand their professional attitudes, supplementing the in-school activities.

The future art teacher is introduced to the National Art Education Association and the Eastern Arts Association which will continue as important influences throughout his professional life.

Different activities sponsored or co-sponsored by this group were a trip to the Reading Museum, speakers on furniture design and the education of exceptional children, and the annual Art Bazaar.

ART EDUCATION SOCIETY

KAPPA DELTA PI

"I do solemnly swear . . ."

Technically, any Junior or Senior whose quality point is in the upper quintile of the school's averages is eligible for membership in Kappa Delta Pi, but this honorary educational society requires of its member the additional qualifications of integrity, scholastic sincerity, and service to the college community.

Educational experiences such as panel discussion groups are shared with the student body in open meetings. In addition, the service ideals of Kappa Delta Pi stimulate a student scholastic aid program and a scholarship program.

The Contemporary Affairs Forum meets monthly to discuss current national and international occurrences. Guest speakers, films, and panel discussions on such topics as "Life Among the Indians" and "What Is Mohammedanism?" have been presented in hopes that the individual student will be better prepared to think and speak on world affairs.

"Isn't it a lovely day?" exclaims the commuter one bright early morning.

"Is it?" asks the dorm student, running to the window.

The struggles of getting to school during bad driving weather combined with other commuter peeves are counterbalanced by such things as home-cooked meals and snacks raided from a refrigerator.

"Riders to the Sea"

DRAMA CLUB

A motion picture on make-up, demonstrations illustrating acting techniques, and readings of various plays offered instruction and experience in acting, make-up, and set design to members of the Dramatic Club. Other activities included trips to see plays produced by other groups and an informal social gathering at Christmas time.

Activities shared with the student body were two one-act plays, "Riders to the Sea" by Synge and "A Marriage Proposal" by Chekhov, presented in the November 20 assembly, and the performance of a spring play.

FELLOWCRAFTERS

The Fellowcrafters as a group are trying to anticipate and meet the needs they will have as teachers. Time is mostly spent working on private projects, exploring such activities as painting, leatherwork, weaving, and embroidery. Several of the meetings, however, have been used for demonstrations by guest art students showing techniques in such areas as copper enameling and papier-mache. Fun, as well as increased ability in arts and crafts, is the purpose of this club.

GEOGRAPHY CLUB

Do faraway places intrigue you? At Geography Club meetings you may vicariously enjoy distant lands and courageous adventures. You may have the opportunity to discuss current problems in the field of geography or extend your studies in different phases of geography not offered in the regular curriculum.

Each year a representative of a foreign nation is presented to the group. At the club dinner, Resumo Attuquayefid, now a student at Lafayette College, spoke on his native country, Ghana.

Other varied activities presented were Miss Katherine lobst, a missionary to India, discussing her work and showing slides; Dr. C. Duncan Yetman presenting an interesting lecture on the "Geography of Shakespeare"; and an assembly presenting Charles Eggert and the film Canyon River Voyage.

FRESHMAN COLLEGIATE CUSTOMS COMMITTEE

A "Frosh" with a voice hoarse from singing was not unusual this fall, for the Customs Committee members saw to it that every Freshman had a great deal of practice in all college cheers and songs. Several Freshmen were honored by invitations to appear at the weekly committee meetings and were later seen wearing large sandwich-board signs and leading Freshman activities.

On Liberation Day, September 29, the Freshmen tried valiantly to beat the upperclassmen in athletic events, but, as is traditional, they lost, extending their initiation period one additional week.

RADIO TV CLUB

"Trick or Treat" . . . was the familiar refrain at the Halloween Party called B*alto presented by the Radio-TV Club. This club meets once a month to discuss problems of radio and television production. Actual broadcasting experience is obtained through an occasional program sponsored by stations in nearby cities. Janet Wanner was the young widow of Marsovia, Roy Miller was her Prince, and Frances Strauss, David Fischl, John Ferrence, James Hite, Bernard Schimmel, Bill Reilly, Janet McGuire, Jerry Yoder, Judy Whitehead, Robert Willi, Mary Ann Gane, Anthony Matalavage, and Harold Beck were supporting players.

This musical production, directed by June Koziar and Bernard Schimmel, was highlighted by the chorus and orchestra under the direction of Francis Chupick. Other student leaders of the production were: art, Ronald Rhode; choreography, Metro Lazorack; properties, Judy Hughes; wardrobe, Barbara Spangenberg; make-up, Marlea Maryott; publicity, Steve Miller; and lighting, Ted Kramer.

One of the annual affairs that attract many of the students and faculty members is the Art Bazaar. It is presented in early December, by the Art Alliance and Art Education Society. THANKSGIVING DINNER AND DANCE

Turkey and all the trimmings—a typical Thanksgiving dinner—were enjoyed at the annual Thanksgiving dinner on Saturday, November 22. The Georgian Dining Room was gaily decorated in an autumn mood with candles and centerpieces composed of a variety of fruit. Students and their guests forgot their studies in the festive air, though remembering gratitude for their many blessings.

After the dinner the Resident Men's Association sponsored a dance. Autumn in the form of warm colors, pumpkins, corn shocks, and a sprightly cardboard horse pulling an old wagon transformed the gym for the evening, while music set the tempo for gaiety. The main event of the evening was the announcement of Paul Reed Maurer as "Mr. Esquire" of 1958-59. Mr. Esquire is the senior man voted most outstanding by the student body—truly the "big man on campus."

CHRISTMAS DINNER AND DANCE

Turkey, cranberry sauce, and other traditional good things graced the tables of the annual Christmas Dinner Saturday evening, December 13.

After eating their fill, students, their guests, and faculty adjourned to the softly lighted gymnasium. The theme of the dance this year was "Opus in Pastels."

MEN'S OPEN HOUSE

Eggnog, nuts, coffee, buns, candy . . .

These were some of the extras that enhanced the annual visit to the men's dormitory on the night of Open House, December 8. The rooms were not only "spic and span," but they were enthusiastically decorated in a Christmas motif of evergreens and sparkling ornaments. This event, planned by the Resident Men's Association, came to an end as everyone gathered around the Christmas tree in the Concourse to sing carols.

Three cheers for the team! Three cheers for the Queen!

Various sponsored by individual departments and the college assembly committee, these programs have provided an opportunity for the widening of the college horizons. Included in these programs were one-act plays, a film lecture by Charles Eggert entitled Canyon River Voyage, a jazz concert, and Cultural Festival activities such as a foreign film and May Day activities.

EVENING PERFORMANCES

As a part of its program of student activities, the college, during the 1958-59 term, sponsored three evening performances to add to the cultural life of the students.

In the spotlight on September 25 was the American Piano Trio. The Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra Woodwind Quintet was featured on October 16, and the Lotte Goslar Pantomime Circus was the attraction of the performance on January 28.

STUDENT ACTIVITY BOARD

The Student Activity Board, governing student organization of the college, is composed of four students from each class. As an agency of the student body, and supplied with funds from student activity fees, the Activity Board arranges for receptions, teas and dances; contracts for evening performances and assembly programs; and makes arrangements for such student services as group insurance.

"Point of order, Mr. Chairman."

Sharply drawn upon the memory are unforgettable images of the year's failures and triumphs, moments of victory, moments of defeat; the two mingling so effortlessly that it becomes difficult to determine where one leaves off and the other begins.

Sport means a lot of things—it means both fact and fancy, it is as tangible as a baseball bat and as intangible as the chill of an autumn afternoon. It is not all things to everyone, but with its magnetic attraction it affects each in a different way.

Were the eye sharp enough we could likely witness the birth of an ulcer, while watching the sideline antics of the bewildered coach.

The sounds, the sighs, the smell of sports linger long after the season's end . . .

FOOTBALL

Diminutive Bob Koster, a 155-pound halfback from New Jersey, sparked the offense while tackle Dick Kyle, center Bill Nill, and freshman end Harry Mattive carried the defensive lead as Coach Joe Patton's '58 Golden Avalanche spurred late for a 3-3-1 mark.

For the second successive year the Maroon saved its finest effort for Homecoming. Fifteen hundred delighted fans saw the Avalanche, led by quarterback Bob Steidle, climax a thrill-packed season with a 13-0 whitewash of the invading Montclair (N.J.) Indians.

Before the late season victory sprees, which saw the locals crush three of their final four opponents—New Britain, Mansfield, and Montclair, with a lone mud-splattered setback to the National Agricultural College—the injury ridden Maroons felt the touch of the whitewash brush at Millersville and East Stroudsburg.

Tackle Dick Kyle, an All-Bux Mont selection and a 60 minute performer at KSTC, was named the team's most valuable player. Awards were also presented to the most improved player, Bob Koster; co-captains Bill Nill and Emil Ilchuk; most valuable fullback, senior Lou Rit-ravato; and most valuable freshman, Harry Mattive.

BASKETBALL

It was a long wait but KSTC's ship finally came in bearing freshman cage sensations Tony LaScala and Bob Furniss.

Bolstered by this spectacular duo of newcomers, Coach Walt Risley's 1958-59 cagers stunned the P.S.T.C.C. by trouncing the Millersville Marauders 75-59 to end M.S.T.C. dreams of a sixth consecutive conference crown. LaScala and Furniss split 38 points as the Maroon ended an eight-year famine against the Marauders. Not since 1950-51 had the locals scored a victory over the Lancaster county quintet.

The unbelievable speed of Risley's starting five of LaScala, Furniss, 6'5" John Bishop, Arlan Burkert, and diminutive 5'8" Dick Powell provided Maroon cage fans with a brand of basketball too long absent from college hill.

Jaws dropped as the locals swept to four straight home wins—Trenton, 90-70; Bloomsburg, 89-77; Shippensburg, 80-65; and Millersville, before dropping a heartbreaking 81-77 overtime decision to the powerful Rams of West Chester.

Eyes bulged as the Avalanche unleashed fantastic scoring power to demolish the invading National Aggies 98-52 as 12 players contributed to the Maroon total.

Fans still hesitate to pinch themselves for fear they will find they are only dreaming that basketball success has at last come to Kutztown.

HONOR BASKETBALL

Basketball is the most popular women's sport at Kutztown. Of the many girls who tried out for the honor team, twelve lucky girls were chosen to participate in the play days.

This season the girls participated in two play days, one at Moravian and the other at home. Play days are usually exciting days for they provide a chance for our girls to become acquainted with girls from other colleges. They also provide opportunities to use the perfected shooting forms and the out-of-bounds rules stressed in their practice sessions. All this experience should lead to many victories for Kutztown.

Watch that rebound!

The fastest and roughest women's sport at Kutztown is field hockey. Tryouts for the honor team were held early in the fall and from those who tried out, fifteen girls were selected to represent Kutztown.

Kutztown women can be proud of this year's honor team, for the girls were victorious at both of the Play Days. The first one was held at Albright where we won both the Albright and Cedar Crest games. The players will especially remember the play by the captain, Char Yoder, in which she singlehandedly scored a goal within seconds after taking the ball from a center bully. The second play day at Cedar Crest found Kutztown beating Moravian and Albright, and battling hard against Cedar Crest in what finally ended in a 0-0 game.

HONOR HOCKEY

Let's get that ball!

TAU KAPPA

The ultimate goal of Kutztown's women athletes is the honorary athletic sorority, Tau Kappa, Alpha Chapter. After a girl has accumulated 750 points in the sports program she becomes a pledge to the sorority. She continues to work for 1,000 points which makes her eligible for membership in the group. A solemn candle-light ceremony officially welcomes her into Tau Kappa.

On Homecoming Day, Tau Kappa celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary on our campus with a reunion banquet in the private dining room. Commemorating this silver anniversary the organization entered a float in the Homecoming Day parade. This float was designed and built by the girls.

Tau Kappa also sponsored a Christmas collection from which toys and gifts for needy children were bought.

MIAA

Harassed and sometimes bewildered M.I.A.A. president, Don Steffy, conquered scheduling and officiating problems to lead the college hill would-be stars to a successful intramural sports year.

On the gridiron scene Rick Mortimer's Giants dominated the six-man play with a 5-0-1 slate, while Al Greenawalt, the loop's most valuable player, led the Bears to the runner-up position. Mortimer and Ron Dunkelberger were standouts for the intramural king-pins.

Thirteen teams and a record 135 players turned out to battle for intramural cage honors. What they lacked in hardwood know-how, the participants made up with enthusiasm.

Sport night, with its grunts and groans and crackling bones, held the early spring spotlight as Third Hall defended its '58 title against the best of the dorm and commuting athletes, while the warm spring weather and the crack of the bat beckoned the intramural stalwarts for a last fling on the diamond.

LEADERS CLUB

Almost every Thursday evening the college gymnasium is the scene of much female activity. It's time for Leaders Club and usually about fifty women can be found participating in some type of sports. The club is primarily a time of fun and recreation. Volleyball, basketball, and softball are played in season. Sometimes there's an evening of golf instruction or square dancing, both of which always prove to be enjoyable.

In the fall, Leaders Club sponsored a Saturday night square dance, complete with a caller, the Reverend Posie Scheirer. The group also sponsored a Blue Room Party in January.

BASEBALL

A veteran diamond squad gave promise of capping one of KSTC's most successful sports' years with even more spectacular triumphs as the Key-stonia went to press.

Back to lead the Avalanche in P.S.T.C.C. diamond wars were slugging outfielder Gene Kershner, who hit .375 with the '58 Maroon, and last year's freshman mound standout Terry Deck.

A pre-season evaluation indicated that coach Risley's problem would be to find hill assistance for Deck and a second baseman to team with first sacker Arlan Burket, shortstop John Dreyer, and hot-corner man, co-captain Ron Dunkleberger.

Behind the bat Risley will be two deep with co-captain Al Greenawalt and Sam Quigg ready to see action. Greenawalt was forced to the sidelines for part of the '58 campaign with a shoulder separation.

In the outfield Kreshner will be joined by veteran Bob Steidle while the remaining slot will have to be filled by one of a score of promising freshman hopefuls.

Ron Dunkleberger, Avalanche third-sacker, demonstrates the "fine art" of the sacrifice bunt to veteran catcher Al Greenawalt. Dunkleberger and Greenawalt were co-captains of the 1959 Maroon nine.

Ace Avalanche hurler Terry Deck gives outfielder Gene Kershner a bit of inside dope on the art of pitching.

SENIORS

Four years have slipped by, years filled with work, both academic and extracurricular. We have gained experience working on art projects, writing term papers, and sitting in on gab sessions. Proms, exams, and athletic games are not at an end for the class of '59. Practice teaching has made us no longer a group of students, but one of teachers. Commencement is the gateway through which we enter our profession and through which we have already glimpsed our goals.

Classmates:

Throughout the course of these four years, we have enjoyed the security of a wealth of new friendships and the exchange of exciting new ideas and concepts. These ideas and concepts grew into an informational stream which was silently assimilated into a great mental reservoir. From this reservoir we have been able to develop our own theories and philosophies and to vitalize with direction all the knowledge we have gained. We leave these years with keen insights into the problems of the future as shareholders in the wisdom of the ages. The impact of history is caught by a mirror of the present and reflected into the eye of the future.

We have no illusions about our ability to twist the world into conformity with our personal ways; neither do we expect to allow our individuality to be forced into the gray frame of this nuclear age. Fine yarn, sparkling tools, and a naturally evolving plan in the hands of a master eventually yield a coat of majestic quality.

As graduates we represent a variety in potential and a variety in fulfillment. The evolution of specific talents is the course of our human history. Across the expanse of the fields' rich blackness, a meticulous stone wall stretches unfinished toward the horizon.

Whatever the future holds—peace, prosperity, war, death—will be viewed in the light of what Kutztown has given us. Deeply imbedded within each of us is a sincere feeling for our school, our teachers, and our classmates. Our joys, our sorrows, and our friendships which can never be relived will be reviewed in our memories whenever we are reminded of the school on College Hill. Massive sterling mobiles sparkling in the glow of dancing flames—memories and motion, shadows on the wall. The graceful quill silently covers the ancient parchment in testimony of the eternal struggle.

To you, my classmates, I wish success and happiness in the years ahead.

James S. Milne
Senior Class President
